Builders Merchant Building Index

Monthly Report for January 2016

Building the Industry & Building Brands from Knowledge

Introduction

John Newcomb, Managing Director BMF

The Builders Merchant Building Index (BMFI) report uses data from GfK's ground-breaking Builders Merchants Panel, which analyses data from over 80% of generalist builders' merchants' sales throughout Great Britain.

GfK's Builders Merchants Panel started collecting data in July 2014, and all trend data in the BMFI is indexed on the 6 month period July 2014 to December 2014. The monthly series tracks what is happening in the market month by month and includes an in-depth review every Quarter. This trend series gives our industry access to far more accurate and comprehensive data than that available to other construction sectors.

The BMFI report is evolving. In the previous report we introduced a new base for indices, using a six-month period rather than a single month – which provides a more robust footing and minimises seasonal influences. This month 'Renewables & Water Management' has been re-named 'Renewables & Water Saving' to better reflect the products included.

Data from GfK's Builders Merchants Panel is setting a new standard to give us a reliable market picture. Unlike data from sources based on estimates, or sales from suppliers into the supply chain, this up-to-date data is based on actual sales out from merchants to builders and other trades.

Measuring the level of RMI work in the economy is hugely important to everyone including Government. Yet until now there has not been any decent measure of RMI, or even an approximation of it. The Builders Merchants Panel provides a reliable measure on a national scale.

We recognise the importance of sharing this data. In this spirit, MRA Marketing proposed creating the Builders Merchant Building Index to communicate to the wider market as the voice of the industry – as well as the voice of individual Expert Brands each quarter. The Q4, 2015 report featured five Experts and more will follow (see page 11). Mike Rigby and his team at MRA Marketing produce the Builders Merchant Building Index and will contact you to explain how this works and outline the opportunities it brings.

GfK insights go deeper than the category sectors contained in this document. They can trace product group performance and track features that are relevant to you. GfK can also produce robust like-for-like market comparability tailored to the requirements of an individual business. As more merchants join in to submit their monthly sales-out data the quality of this information can only become more extensive and rigorous. Merchants or Suppliers who are interested in getting involved should contact Ricky Coombes at Ricky.Coombes@gfk.com

Q4 2015

Overview

John Newcomb, Managing Director BMF

Sales in January were up 2.5% compared with the same month in 2015. There was one more trading day in January last year, although it's likely the extra day contributed little turnover, with January 2nd falling on a Friday. Month on month, January was 19.1% higher than December's sales.

Comparing the last three months (November to January) with the same three months a year ago, sales increased by 3.2%.

Seven categories out-performed this month's overall Builders Merchant Building Index and five were weaker. Workwear & Safetywear was the strongest in January and also had the highest year on year sales increase (+10.2%).

Plumbing, Heating & Electrical was the next-strongest in the index and also ahead of last year (up 4.3%).

Ironmongery performed well, up 6.5% on January 2015.

As the most seasonal category, Landscaping had January's lowest index (69.8 which compares current sales to the average of six months' sales July to December 2014) but it still did 3.2% better than January 2015.

Renewables & Water Saving is a particularly volatile category, being dependent on a small number of transactions. It had the second lowest index (76.7) for January and was weakest year on year (-14.2%).

Heavy Building Materials, the largest single category, was 2.9% up on last January but weaker with an index of 87.8 than Total Builders Merchants which had an index of 88.9. The next largest category, Timber & Joinery Products was 1.6% ahead of last year and its index, 91.5%, out-performed Total Builders Merchants.

Two other categories were up on last year: Decorating & Renovation up 1.7% in January and Kitchens & Bathrooms up 1.4%.

Services slipped 0.4% compared to January 2015.

The report provides insights and reliable facts. Use it to compare your sales with the market. The following charts enable you to see how each of the 12 contributing categories has performed in more detail.

GfK Insights Methodology

GfK collect live sales-out data from our panel of merchant partners.

We add value to that data through the application of each sold product's unique technical features. We compare like-for-like products and categories from like-for-like merchants and aggregate this within our reports.

Our international methodology is based on robust scientific principles and delivers continuous, reliable information that can be applied to your business requirements.
